CU CYBER

Clemson's Cyber Security Gateway

We are a student run organization for getting students excited and knowledgable in cyber security regardless of their discipline or skill level. We offer students weekly seminars given by a member or guest speaker who knows about and would like to share a technical or social aspect of cyber security, prepare teams to participate in local and national cyber security competitions, and give students access to hardware on which they can safely experiment with defensive or offensive cyber security. Are you interested in the rapidly growing field of cyber security?
